

3-2-1 Bridge

Exploring Ramadan and Eid

Objective: To spark students' curiosity and encourage them to articulate their prior knowledge, questions, and interests about Ramadan and Eid.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. THREE THINGS I KNOW

Ask students to write down three things they already know about Ramadan and Eid. Encourage them to consider their personal experiences, observations, or any information they might have encountered in the media, school, or their community.

2. TWO THINGS I WANT TO LEARN

Have students identify two specific aspects or questions they would like to learn more about regarding Ramadan and Eid. Encourage them to think about areas where they feel their knowledge might be lacking or where they have a particular interest.

3. ONE QUESTION I HAVE

Prompt students to formulate one question they have about Ramadan or Eid. This question should reflect their curiosity and desire to deepen their understanding of these cultural observances.

Exploring Ramadan and Eid

EXAMPLE

THREE THINGS I KNOW

- Ramadan is the ninth month of the Islamic lunar calendar and is observed by Muslims worldwide.
- Fasting during Ramadan involves abstaining from food, drink, smoking, and certain behaviours from dawn until sunset.
- Eid al-Fitr marks the end of Ramadan and is celebrated with prayers, feasting, and giving of gifts and charity.

TWO THINGS I WANT TO LEARN

- What are the specific rituals or practices during Ramadan and Eid?
- How do people celebrate Ramadan and Eid differently around the world?

ONE QUESTION I HAVE

- How do individuals and families prepare for and celebrate Eid al-Fitr in different parts of the world?

NOTE:

Encourage students to share their responses with the class or in small group discussions. This activity sets the stage for further exploration and learning about Ramadan and Eid, allowing students to express their existing knowledge, curiosity, and questions before engaging in deeper discussions and activities related to these cultural observances.
